Drama Will Benefit Alumni Foundation

The Potomac State Players, under the direction of Prof. Orval Anderson '39, will present a benefit performance on Thursday, March 3, for the Potomac State College Alumni Foundation, Inc. Eugene O'Neill's one-act drama, 'The Long Voyage Home,' will be performed.

New Calendar Set For 1966-67 Term

The Potomac State College faculty voted at a recent meeting to approve a new college calendar for 1966-67. The calendar resembles closely a schedule recently approved at West Virginia University in which the first semester will end immediately before the Christmas recess and the second semester will terminate in mid-May.

Effective in the fall of 1966, Freshman Week will open Tuesday, Aug. 30, with classes scheduled to begin Sept. 6. Final examinations will be conducted between Dec. 15 and 20, closing out the first semester. Second semester (Please turn to page 2)

Prof. Rodgers Dies Following Heart Attack

PROF. NORMAN E. RODGERS

Prof. Norman Rodgers, chairman of the Division of Social Sciences at Potomac State College and a member of the staff since 1947, died Feb. 17 at Potomac Valley Hospital. He was also a member of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Foundation.

Following a coronary attack last August, Professor Rodgers had been recuperating during the first semester and was expecting

Foundation Gifts Honor Paul Davis

Several memorial gifts, in the form of contributions to the Potomac State College Alumni Foundation, Inc., were received recently to perpetuate the memory of Paul J. Davis, former president of the Alumni Association and the college's first coach, who died Jan. 8.

Gifts were received from Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Church, Lt. and Mrs. Robert Gosnell, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. David G. Nuzum, Dr. Nancy M. Miller, T. Warner Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Wells, the Potomac State Faculty Club, and the following members of the Alumni Association's Board of Directors: Mrs. Robert T. Coffman, Thomas J. Conlon, Kenneth F. Haines, Joseph W. Kessel, and Mrs. Richard Hanlin.

to return to classes before suffering a seizure Feb. 15.

Husband of Prof. Marie (Reynolds) Rodgers of the English department, he is the son of Mrs. Lula Mae (McPheeters) Rodgers of Brookland, Ark., and the late William A. Rodgers.

1966 Fund Drive For Foundation Now Underway

The Potomac State College Alumni Foundation, Inc., opens its 1966 campaign for contributions with the mailing of this issue of the NEWSLETTER. The Foundation is equipped to handle grants of real estate, bequests from wills, stocks, bonds, and other negotiable instruments, according to Joseph "Joe Bill" Kessel '48, current president of the organization.

In the four years since its inception the Foundation has received gifts totaling more than $4,000. It has been able to award two scholarships with the interest from its trust fund, and the Board of Directors is considering aid to more students through matching funds in conjunction with the National Defense Education Act.

Enclosed with this bulletin is the current pamphlet containing the perforated pledge form. WON'T YOU HELP SOME DESERVING STUDENT?

College Reaches Peak Enrollment

This year's enrollment at Potomac State ranks as the highest in the college's 63-year-old history. The breakdown shows 732 full-time students and 116 evening and other special students for a grand total of 848.

Even with the expected mortality among this record freshman group by the end of the school year, barring other circumstances such as a national crisis, Potomac State can expect to have a record sophomore class next fall plus another record freshman class. "If this trend continues for the next 10 years," stated President Todd H. Bullard, "this college will have 1,000 or more students."

Pittsburgh Firm Low Bidder on New Building

Mellon-Stuart Gets Contract
For All-Purpose Building
To Open Spring of '67

Ground-breaking and construction of the new multi-purpose building on the Potomac State College campus is expected to get underway soon and officials are hoping that the building will be ready for occupancy by next spring.

The Mellon-Stuart Construction Company of Pittsburgh, the same firm which built Friend Hall, submitted the low bid of $1,235,900 which was approved by the Board of Governors of West Virginia University.

Three other firms also submitted bids which, though above the Mellon-Stuart figure, were under the amount of money available for the project. They were Baker and Combs, Morgantown; George Construction, Cumberland, Md.; and W. Harley Miller, Martinsburg.

The new building, to be located at Arcadia Heights with the front facing Arnold Street as it intersects B Street, will include an auditorium with a seating capacity of about 940 persons and a fine arts area for the teaching of such work as art, music, drama, and modern means of communication.

Thanks Alumni!

Dear Former Students,

Permit me to use this NEWSLETTER to express my sincere THANKS to those of you who have thus far answered our plea for alumni dues. With your help we have been able to publish this issue.

Let me also URGE you who have not paid your 1965-66 dues to SEND THEM TODAY so that we may continue our publication.

Sincerely yours,

KEN HAINES '50,

Death Claims Four Former Members of Faculty, Staff – W. D. Anthony, Dr. Huffman, Paul Davis, Mrs. Cook

W. D. Anthony

Alumni closely associated with Potomac State College will be saddened to learn of the passing of four staunch supporters of the institution who, through the years, were either on the faculty or staff.

They include former Registrar William D. Anthony; former basketball coach and alumni president, Paul J. Davis; former college physician, Dr. Thad T. Huffman; and former home economics instructor, Mrs. Eleanor Jones Cook.

Mr. Anthony, who served as instructor and registrar at Potomac State from about 1913 to his retirement in 1946, died Jan. 18 at his home in Richmond, Va.

After leaving Potomac State he taught in Raleigh, N.C., and in Richmond to rack up an enviable record of about 64 years in education serving until his final retirement in 1963. His teaching areas here were in business law and accounting.

His wife preceded him in death. Survivors include two children, who attended Potomac State, Miss Lucille Anthony, now employed with the Presbyterian Library in Richmond, and a son, William Jr., who has a position with a Richmond television station.

Paul J. Davis

Paul J. Davis, 73, a member of the Class of 1912 and always a familiar sight at homecoming activities, was the first paid athletic director of the school. He died suddenly on Jan. 8 at his home in Keyser.

He had been the coach of football and basketball here from

Dr. T. T. Huffman

1919 until 1922 when he was succeeded by George Parrish.

Mr. Davis had long been an important asset to sports in the Keyser area having played with the Keyser Collegians and other athletic teams. Following his graduation here, he volunteered his services in athletics frequently before being athletic director. Until recently he was always seen at PSC sport contests as an interested spectator.

He served as president of the Alumni Association in 1914, 1926-28, and again in 1936. He was president of the National Bank of Keyser, an active member of the Rotary Club, the American Legion, and the Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lena (Oss) Davis; a daughter, Mrs. Jean Carol Woodworth ('53), Burlington; a sister, and three grandchildren.

Dr. Huffman

Dr. Huffman, a 53-year-old prominent Keyser physician, served as health officer for the college for a number of years and also was the public health doctor for the city of Keyser. He died suddenly on Oct. 3 at his home on Carskadon Lane.

Besides practicing medicine he was also president of Keyser Television Co., Inc., a post he held since becoming affiliated with the cable firm in the early 1950s shortly after it was organized.

Dr. Huffman was graduated from Keyser High School, Potomac State College, and West Virginia University prior to receiving his medical degree from

Paul J. Davis

Hahneman Medical College, Philadelphia, in June of 1938.

He was director of the National Bank of Keyser; member of the American Medical Association, West Virginia State Medical Association, American Academy of General Practitioners, and American Academy of Chest Physicians. He also belonged to the Rotary, Moose, Elks, WACO Hunting Club, Mill Creek Country Club, Cumberland Country Club, Davis Lodge 51, AF & AM, Scottish Rite Bodies, and Osiris Shrine Temple of Wheeling. He was a member of the Keyser Presbyterian Church having served as Deacon.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary (Stevenson) Huffman; two daughters, Miss Mary Sue Huffman and Miss Janet Shawn Huffman; a son, Thad S. Huffman, and one brother.

Mrs. Cook

Mrs. Cook, who died Sept. 25 in the Charleston (W.Va.) Memorial Hospital at the age of 66, was an instructor in home economics at Potomac State in 1925-26.

She headed the state department of archives and history (1946-52) during the administrations of Gov. Clarence Meadows and Gov. Okey L. Patterson. Both she and her husband, the late Roy Bird Cook, who died in 1961, were widely known as historians. During the administration of Gov. M. M. Neely she was secretary to the State Board of Education.

Survivors include two brothers and three step-daughters.
